Hi, I'm X — a Product & Graphic Designer who loves exploring ideas, solving problems, and turning concepts into meaningful designs.

This portfolio is a collection of selected projects, experiments, and collaborations that reflect my journey and the way I approach design. I believe great design is never created alone. The best ideas come from collaboration, different perspectives, and the shared passion of talented people working together.

Thanks for taking the time to explore my work — I hope you enjoy it.
